

PROFILE

A driven software engineer with a focus on full-stack development and a passion for building secure, efficient, and scalable systems. Currently completing a bachelor's degree in computer science while enhancing my skill set through online bootcamps. I bring a fresh perspective, a hunger for learning, and a strong commitment to delivering high-quality software solutions. Eager to contribute to a dynamic team, continuously improve software and infrastructure, and take on challenging projects that make a real impact.

Let's innovate and build something amazing together.
